"I was removing myself from an abusive relationship after my husband stomped on my head and caused a brain injury. Brain Injury Alliance has been with me every step of the way as I have worked to live life free and on my own terms. I was able to receive free counseling to plan to leave my house as safely as possible. Their utility fund assisted me with establishing my own cell phone and internet in my new apartment so that I could attend doctor's appointments by tele-therapy. Through their transportation fund, I was able to access bus passes so that I can work. Their peer support team even helped me attend my divorce proceedings over zoom because I don't have a computer." —Regina | Tempe, Arizona

"My neighbor knew of the Brain Injury Alliance of Arizona and suggested I contact them when my wife was being discharged from the hospital after falling while taking down Christmas lights. The hospital social worker had sent me look at nursing homes and I was heartbroken about sending her there. Brain Injury Alliance helped me understand how to advocate for my wife with the hospital and the insurance company for the appropriate intensive brain injury rehabilitation. My wife came directly home after 6 weeks in that program and was able to be part of our family! I am back to work, and she is once again able to care for our young children who would have missed her dearly if she had to go to a nursing home for long term care. I don't want to be in a world where Brain Injury Alliance is not available for families after an accident or illness causes a brain injury." —Robert | Sierra Vista, Arizona

"My brother has been on a difficult journey after a he sustained a head injury at work. He became addicted to his pain medication and it lead to legal involvement. Brain Injury Alliance of Arizona has been there for us. They provided support groups and education for family members. They taught us how to use Crisis Intervention Services instead of 911. I know they are just a call away whatever comes up in the future."
